NOTICE

The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act do not apply to the federal judiciary. However, it is the judiciary's policy to provide auxiliary aids and services to participants in court proceedings who are deaf or hearing-impaired, or who have other communications disabilities. The court's Courtroom Deputy serves as the Access Coordinator for participants who have hearing or other communications disabilities and require auxiliary aids or services to access court proceedings. In the Courtroom Deputy's absence, the Chief Deputy Clerk serves as the Alternate Access Coordinator.

Counsel of record and parties participating in federal court proceedings who require auxiliary aids and/or services to access court proceedings should submit requests for services in writing to the Access Coordinator at ca01ml_access_coordinator@ca1.uscourts.gov promptly after their case has been scheduled for oral argument, at least two weeks before the court proceeding.

Access Coordinator:	Daniel Toomey, Courtroom Deputy
Alternate Access Coordinator:	Sarah Koster, Chief Deputy Clerk
