Southern Tenant Farmers' Union (STFU): Large labor union, formed in Arkansas in 1934, which lobbied the federal government for better New Deal reforms. Dissolved in 1960. Commonly causes mirth among US History students who are aware of the acronym's double meaning.
Teacher: Joey will you please tell the class about the STFU?

Class: Hahahahahahahaha

To the extent of being universally known, consistently used online, both on multiplayer games and messege boards.

Practiced in anger or irritation, to get someone to remain quiet.

With or without "Bitch", "Woman" or any demeaning and vulgar slang to show pwnership. Typically used by two groups; Newbies defending themselves, or Persons prejudice against them.

Shut the fuck up. It's simple. When you are annoyed with someone who won't stop ranting on instant messaging, you type "stfu!!" But be sure to limit yourself to two exclamation points, though, because three will look too angry. You could also type two exclamation points and then a "1". Like this: stfu!!1. This way, the third exclamation point is there, but only in spirit. This puts a little extra anger, but not so enough to make the other person angry at you. :)

~On instant messaging~
